COLOURS FROM THE LAND OF GREY

GREETINGS FROM THE LAND OF GREY:

Greetings from Finland, where one grey day follows another. Where grey waves wash over grey rocks at the shore under grey skies, and grey buildings line grey streets. Why all this greyness? Because it makes a perfect background for other colours. Hai has brought colour to greyness since 1968. Originally designed for sailing, the Hai range is now much more than rubber boots. Most of all, it adds colour to a grey world.

RUBBER CONDITIONER

The rubber and neoprene upper are very durable and clean up easily with water or gentle scrubbing with soap and water remove mud and any chemicals or animal waste. Allow to dry naturally at room temperature, avoid storing your boots in direct sunlight, near to artificial heat or in sub-zero temperatures.

The rubber upper can be conditioned with a spray as SmartRub™ or Gateway1 Rubber Conditioner: it treats the rubber to prevent cracks and drying out. You can also use it for maintaining the zip: unzip the boot and use it as a zipcleaner to remove grit and dust.

For boots without laces it is important you are comfortable with the fit of your boots. To avoid excess wear on the neoprene, ensure any heel slip when walking is minimal. If necessary, consider heel grips to aid fit. For extra comfort, preferably wear wool socks, at least not cotton, to ensure that you do not retain perspiration. Take them off with a bootjack.

Muck Boot, Gateway1 and Nokian Footwear gives a 12-month warranty against manufacturing defects, however not for wear.
